Dear Lions, Lionesses and Leos,

We want to thank you for your amazing work. Your support has truly had a huge impact on those who are blind or visually impaired this year.

Together, Lions, Lionesses and Leos contributed nearly $2 million to our general operating fund and gave or pledged nearly $2.5 million to our very special Canine Development Center project. That is awesome!

In the past year, with your support, Leader Dogs for the Blind graduated 166 people with a trained guide dog, served 86 people in our Accelerated Orientation and Mobility (white cane travel) program and enjoyed having 24 youth participate in our Summer Experience Camp.

Thank you for helping to make this happen. In appreciation for your support we are enclosing:

- A "Dog Bone" appreciation patch for clubs who donated $100 or more to general operating in the 2015-16 fiscal year (this does not include Canine Development Center support). We have also included a flyer on all of our recognition programs.
- An open house flyer as we are nearing completion on the work on the Canine Development Center. We hope you will join us for one of our open houses.
- A pre-addressed envelope which may be used to send your annual contribution and to update your club's contact information.

On behalf of our clients, canines and entire team, thank you for your continued support of empowering people who are blind or visually impaired with greater independence.

Sincerely,

Lion Kathy Sakrist Lion Bill Sted

International Students Visit Camp Brim Shire

By CHRIS DANIELS

cdaniels@sainjamespress.com

Twelve international students visited St. James last week, spending time at Camp Brim Shire as well as other locations in St. James. The annual international exchange program is conducted through Lions International and allows students from around the world to visit foreign countries and to experience different cultures.

The William C. Chandler Lions Youth Camp allowed these visitors a chance to visit the capitol in Jefferson City, Fort Leonard Wood, the Missouri University of Science and Technology, and spend time with host families. Students were housed with local families for the past month and traveled throughout Missouri to visit important locations and to experience life as a Missourian. Countries represented included Turkey, Taiwan, Czech Republic, Austria, Germany, Hungary, Finland, Italy and Spain.

"My favorite part was the Royals and Cardinals," Onur Iskander, of Turkey, said. He was in a group that had the chance to catch baseball games at Busch Stadium as well as a Lions Club football game locally. Yu Hung Chang, of Taiwan, agreed he enjoyed visiting the stadium. "The stadium was cool," he said.

A group of 12 international exchange students spent July in Missouri, finishing with a stay at Camp Brim Shire. The annual program allows students to visit important historic and cultural locations during their stay in Missouri.

"Will C. Chandler was a past international president when the youth camp was formed in 1981. He liked young people and found we need to do international exchanging," Lisa Clinton, of the Lions International Missouri District, said.

In 1984, the first camp was held at Camp Brim Shire. During the early years, exchange students spent two weeks in the St. Louis area. The program has grown tremendously over the years, now allowing visitors to spend time all over Missouri including Kansas City, Jefferson City, and other spots of historical or cultural importance. Host families house the kids for the month and teach how life is in America.

...to teach them about our history and our laws," Clinton said.

Since the early 1980s, the program has been successful in exchanging students to and from America to spend time abroad. "We are not a political or religious organization. We accept everybody. We try to do things that might entertain them," Clinton said.

During this group's time in Missouri, along with the historic trips, the group spent time at Maramec Spring Park, visited a music concert in Rolla, and visited several eateries to experience the food choices Missourians have. "The importance is they learn our culture here in America," she said.

Students went home on Sunday, but Clinton said it was a great experience for them as well as the families who hosted them. Lions International will look forward to bringing a new group of kids to Missouri next year and hope to continue the long-standing tradition of the exchange program.

Camp Brim Shire was founded in 1980 on 40 acres of campus space. Part of the Association of Midwest Disadvantaged Youth (AMDY) non-profit organization, Camp Brim Shire was designed, built and continues to be operated solely on donations. From 1980 to 1988 Brim Shire was totally free to all children and agencies. Today, the AMDY and Camp Brim Shire continue to operate with no paid employees, yet due to increasing utilities and maintenance costs a minimal fee is assessed.

All staff is volunteers and less than four percent of all funds are spent on administration. Rich and Sherry Hashagen, who continue the mission of helping kids through the camp and support local organizations who utilize it throughout the year, founded it.

The quality of the newspaper article above does not make it easy to read the article; if you would like additional information about Camp Brim Shire please contact Lion Toni Mahoney or PDG Lisa Clinton.

The St. Charles Lions Club Excites 3rd Graders

In early September the St. Charles Lions Club went to 13 schools in the St. Charles area, and presented 720 third grade students and teachers in 36 classrooms with dictionaries. This is an annual project in which club members visit each class to talk briefly about Lions, and then talk about the dictionary itself, as well as the extensive material at the back of the book. The excitement in the faces and voices of the kids, and the appreciation of the teachers, made this service project a huge success!!

Young Woman Cares for Her Growing Family Thanks to Restored Sight

Petrona's vibrant, hand-sewn dress stood out as she entered the eye clinic. Like many in her village, 26-year-old-Petrona sews all of her own clothes for herself and her family of six. But she was having trouble sewing because her vision was becoming increasingly blurry up close. In hopes of restoring her sight, she decided to walk to the rare eyeglass clinic in her village that was put on by a group of volunteers from the Concord Baptist Church eyeglass ministry from Jefferson City, Mo.

"Petrona was very grateful to everyone who helped provide the glasses for us to bring to her village," said Larry, leader of the eyeglass ministry trip. "It is a great blessing for them to receive the glasses because, if we don't come, they could never be able to afford the glasses themselves."

As a mother of four with children ages 11, 10, 6 and 4, Petrona works in the home and helps her husband farm the family's fields using hand tools to raise corn, beans and coffee. Though Petrona has never been to a school, she is fluent in the native dialect of her village of 300 and also knows Spanish. "I was very impressed with that, not having any formal education," said Larry.

Their small, Mexican village is remote and community members do not have access to television, internet or phone coverage – essentially they are cut off from the world as many know it and do not have access to modern healthcare. Petrona and many in their village have never traveled outside of the village or immediate area and the eyeglass ministry team was the first foreigners many of them had ever seen.

During the Jefferson City group's trip, Saving Sight provided 2,000 pairs of glasses for four eyeglasses clinics in the southernmost part of the jungle state known as Chiapas, Mexico. Groups like the Concord Baptist Church provide a critical service in medically underserved parts of the world where a medical mission trip might be the only chance impoverished people have to get corrective eyewear.

With the help of local Lions and volunteers, Saving Sight collects and processes used eyeglasses and distributes them to people in need through humanitarian groups like the eyeglass ministry. For some, a free pair of recycled eyeglasses can mean the difference between drowning in poverty and providing for their families.

You can change the lives of people like Petrona by getting involved with Saving Sight's Eyeglass Recycling Program in one of four ways.

- Donate your used eyeglasses at Lions collection boxes in your local community or send them to Saving Sight;
- Volunteer to help clean, read and process donated eyeglasses at the Lions Volunteer Center in Saving Sight's Columbia office;
- Distribute glasses to deserving people like Petrona on a mission trip abroad; or
- Support the Eyeglass Recycling Program by making a contribution at circleofsight.org.

Facilities Upgrade to Position Saving Sight for Future Growth

In 1974, Saving Sight opened its first facility in Columbia, Missouri. Today, the facility remains a center of Saving Sight operations and became home to a new Lions Volunteer Center in 2015 to provide dedicated space for recycling used eyeglasses for those in need. But aging mechanical systems of the building and changing needs of the organization have outpaced renovations and repairs to the facility over the last 42 years as Saving Sight has grown its impact.

With the office built in the corner of a six acre lot, approximately four acres of land have remained unutilized since 1974. Meanwhile the surrounding area has become a hub for healthcare in central Missouri, providing Saving Sight the opportunity to turn the unutilized land into an asset to re-invest in its aging Columbia facility.

"By subdividing our lot in Columbia and selling 4 acres of currently unutilized space, we can relieve Saving Sight of the financial burden associated with maintaining the unused land and generate resources to upgrade the 42-year-old Columbia facility in a way that positions Saving Sight to grow its impact in Columbia and central Missouri," said PDG Lion Stuart Payne, president of Saving Sight's board of directors.

Proceeds from the sale of unutilized land in Columbia will be re-invested in building upgrades to position Saving Sight for growth. A 10 year infrastructure and building use plan approved by the board of directors in June of 2016 calls for forecasting future needs in Columbia and completing a needs analysis to review and restructure the building for efficiencies and develop strategies for durability design.

Resources generated from the sale of Columbia land will also be utilized to invest in a second Saving Sight-owned facility in Kansas City in the future. Moving from a leased to an owned facility in Kansas City will position the organization to grow its assets while providing for its facility needs.

Your Contributions are Critical to the Work We Do!
